Alial Fital Takes Advantage of the Power of the Cloud and Google Apps with VIWO

Soon after retiring from a 6 year career as an NFL quarterback, Gibran Hamdan found himself designing mens apparel. Gibran always had a hobby interest in fashion. One day he had the inspiration to wear a polo shirt with a formal collar. He shopped around to no avail and decided to create it himself, learning to sew in his free time. Alial Fital was born.

COMPANY PROFILE

- Online-based apparel company
- Domestically-manufactured clothing
- Gibran Hamdan remains principal designer

CHALLENGE: TOOLS FOR A MOBILE AND GROWING WORKFORCE

Like many businesses, the Alial Fital team increasingly needed to work in multiple locations throughout the US and travel frequently. They wanted:

- Better, more accessible, and scalable collaboration tools
- Shared inboxes and access to customer support emails via the web
- Fully-featured mobile access

SOLUTION: GOOGLE APPS FOR WORK

After surveying their options, Alial Fital chose Google Apps for Work. It gave users:

- Robust mobile apps that provide all required functionality on the go
- Freedom from the limited access provided by generic email clients
- Single-click access to multiple accounts with delegated inbox feature

"[Google Apps for Work] provides the ease of use we were used to with Gmail along with the scalability of a true business-grade cloud solution."

TRANSITION PARTNER: VIWO

- Premiere Google Apps Reseller located in Los Angeles
- Google's largest and highest rated small business partner
- Fast, seamless, and virtual support

"VIWO made the transition pretty seamless. We were up and running within 48 hours."
